DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claims 7 and 9-11 stand withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on January 29, 2010.

Specification

The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) THE NAMES OF THE PARTIES TO A JOINT RESEARCH AGREEMENT.
- (e) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC.
- (f) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
 - (1) Field of the Invention.
 - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (g) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (h) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (i) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (j) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (l) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 15-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Carim (6,708,050). Applicant's attention is directed to Figures 2 and 3 as detailed at column 6, line 22 – column 7, line 9. The device includes electrodes, processing module, battery, and an adhesive membrane covering the electrodes and module.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3, 5, 6, 8, and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Carim (6,708,050) in view of Kroecker et al (2006/0155183). Carim fails to disclose the a ground electrode and the module as including the power source. Such features are well known in the art as disclosed by Kroecker et al as shown by elements 14 and 28. Given this teaching, it would have been obvious to the skilled artisan to construct a device as shown by Carim with a ground electrode and a battery within the module in lieu of using a galvanic power source since a predictable result would ensue. The particular spacing of the electrodes would have been an obvious design expedient to optimize performance of the device.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Carim (6,708,050) in view of Kroecker et al (2006/0155183) as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Dunseath, Jr. (4,669,479). The use of dry electrodes are well known in the art as disclosed by Dunseath, Jr. Given this teaching, it would have been an obvious design expedient to the skilled artisan to construct a device as shown by Carim with such electrodes since a predictable result would ensue.

Claims 13 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Carim (6,708,050) in view of Kroecker et al (2006/0155183) as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Ascher (4,809,705). The use of alarms and deactivation switches on wearable devices are well known in the art as disclosed by Ascher at column 2, line 55 – column 3, line 28. Given this teaching, it would have been an obvious design expedient to the skilled artisan to construct a device as shown by Carim with such features since a predictable result would ensue.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
